

DAY 1 EXODUS 12:21-28

1

Have you ever felt like maybe something wasn't right between you and God? It's a troubling feeling. Of course, we don't want that feeling to stay. Where is the best place to go for help? To Oprah, your horoscope, or the local bookstore? There, you can find all kinds of advice to make you feel happier, hopeful, and in control. But you will never find the peace of God unless you have first dealt with the problem. There's a good chance that your problem is guilt. God wanted to take His people from enslavement in Egypt. God wants to set you free from the guilt and power of sin. He promised that His judgment would pass over those covered by the blood of a sacrifice. The blood of Christ is the starting point for our relationship with God. Before you go anywhere else, cover your life with His sacrifice.

DAY 2 PSALM 103:1-12

Have you ever wondered if you can truly know you are going to heaven? You can know if you understand grace. When a person puts themselves under God's care, God removes them from under the law and places them under His grace. This grace is perfectly described in Psalm 103, God "does not treat us as our sins deserve or repay us according to our iniquities." In other words: because I am a Christian, I will not be judged by my performance of the law. My sins, my actions, and my attitudes deserve Hell, but I will receive Heaven. This is not a license to sin, but it is an assurance that can eliminate one of life's most dreadful fears. Why not give your life to Jesus Christ so that you can say with confidence, "I'm on my way to Heaven."

DAY 3 ROMANS 3:21-30

3

Have you ever felt helpless? Like your life is out of control? If so, you're not alone. As much as we might try to please God and get our lives on track, we find ourselves failing time after time. Life is messed up even for those who seem to have their act together. A person doesn't have to be a really bad sinner or a big sinner; all sinners need forgiveness. This forgiveness is a gift from God for those who trust in Christ. The first step to forgiveness is to agree with God that you are a sinner, and you can't save yourself. Then, ask the Lord to save you and give your life to Him. It's that simple. Jesus promised us that He would not turn anyone away who comes to Him, no matter what they have done. Why not give Jesus the chance to forgive you? What's holding you back?

DAY 1 PETER 1:13-25

4

You may ask, “What if I sin after I am saved?” “Will I be lost?” “Will God forgive me?” As a believer, you are no longer under law, but under grace. But this doesn’t mean that we should be half-hearted in the way we live. God saved us for a better purpose than to continue living in sin. You were called by a holy God, redeemed with holy blood, and covered with a holy sacrifice. Now, having saved us, God calls us to live holy lives. We don’t live holy lives to earn salvation; Jesus already did that for us. We live holy lives because God wants us to be like Him. The world we live in is not conducive to holy living; temptation is everywhere. Only by enlisting the Holy Spirit can we conquer the temptations that plagued us before we knew the Lord.

DAY 1 JOHN 1:1-10

5

Have you ever known someone who acts like a Christian in church, but not so much the rest of the time? Maybe this describes you. John tells us a consistently sinful life (walking in darkness) is inconsistent with Christianity. When we accept Christ as our Savior we are called to walk in the light. If we try to cover our sins, we deceive ourselves and break fellowship with God. If, however, we confess our sin, we find forgiveness and healing. These benefits are an overflow of our relationship with God. Being able to live in the light is not a burden, it’s a benefit. It is so much better than living in darkness. Walking in the light gives the peace, purpose, and stability we want so desperately. Stop hiding and faking and start running toward God. You will be forgiven!
